

PORT WAYNE SENTINEL.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 8, 1846.

Owing to a scarcity of help and a great press of job work the Sentinel has been delayed this week beyond our usual day of publication. This delay enables us to lay before our readers an additional amount of election news.

NEW YORK MERCHANTS.—We would direct the attention of Country dealers to the advertisement of the Merchants, Manufacturers &c in New York, in this day's paper.

THE ELECTION.—The election in this county went off very quietly, and but a light vote was given. By the official returns it will be seen that Whitcomb received a majority of 77 votes over Marshall, being the first time Allen county ever gave a majority for a democratic candidate for Governor. At the last election Gov. Biggs beat Whitcomb 46 votes. This result must be highly gratifying to Gov. Whitcomb, as it shows that the unfounded charges so industriously circulated against him, in regard to the formation of the volunteer regiments, met no response from our citizens; in fact we understand Whitcomb actually received several whig votes.

Parker, whig, beats McLane, our candidate for Representative alive, 35 votes. This is to be regretted, and appears rather inexplicable to us. Mr. McLane is a man of irreproachable character, well qualified to represent us in the Legislature, and as the nominee of our convention, he ought to have received the vote of every democrat. That he did not is certain. Some contend he was sacrificed by trading and swapping off votes for other candidates—a reprehensible course that has been too much practised here. We hope this was not the case, and are disposed to attribute his defeat rather to his not being generally known through the county. Next year he will be better acquainted, and we can elect him by a large majority.

CONGRESS.

PASSAGE OF THE TARIFF BILL.—The Tariff Bill has passed the Senate by a vote of 28 to 27. Mr. Jarnagin, whig, of Tennessee, in obedience to instructions, voting for it. On the vote for engrossing the bill, Mr. Jarnagin absented himself, leaving a tie vote; but the Vice President gave his casting vote in favor of the engrossment, giving at the same time his reasons, in a masterly speech. Mr. Dallas by this vote has endeavored himself to the democracy of the Union, and shown that their confidence in him was not misplaced. The bill was slightly amended in the House, where after an animated struggle, the amendment was concurred in by a vote of 115 to 92, and the bill was passed. It has received the sanction of the President and is now a law. It goes into operation on the 1st of September.

The President has vetoed the River and Harbor Bill.

A bill was reported to the Senate, from the committee on public lands, making an appropriation of a strip of land 30 miles in width on each side of Mr. Whitney's contemplated rail road from the United States to Oregon. Mr. Benton denounced the scheme as absurd and ridiculous, may more, as absolutely impudent, and moved to lay the matter on the table. The motion was rejected, and the report ordered to be printed.

SEN. TUCKER.—On the 31st ult. the Sub-Treasury bill was read a third time in the Senate, but before the final vote was taken the Senate adjourned.

MIAMI PRE-EMPTIONS.—The bill granting pre-emptions on the Miami Lands to actual settlers has passed the Senate. It needs but the President's signature to become a law.

ARRIVAL OF THE HIBERNIA.

Ratification of the Oregon Treaty.—The Hibernia has arrived at Boston, with fifteen day-late news. The most important intelligence she brings is the announcement in the House of Lords of the ratification of the Oregon treaty. The Hibernia brought out the treaty ratified by the British Government.

The new ministry is progressing harmoniously with public business, and a disposition is manifested by all parties to give them a fair trial.

Business in the manufacturing districts is more active, and confidence has been increased by the passage of the Corn Law Bill. Grain and flour continue low, but dealers are more firm. American flour is quoted in Liverpool at $5.10 a 60 lbs. Wheat 1.50 a 1.70. Corn is falling.

ELECTION.

We give below all the election returns that have reached us,—enough to show that Gov. Whitcomb is triumphantly re-elected, and most likely by a greatly increased majority. North eastern Indiana has nobly acquitted herself, and promises ere long to be the strongest democratic part of the state. Whitcomb's majority in this congressional district will not be less than 700,—treble what it was in 1843. In almost every county there is a democratic gain; Adams has increased her majority tenfold, it being only 9 at the previous election, and 90 at the present! Wells has faithfully done her duty, giving 146 majority; and Blackford, the democratic Gibraltar, gives a democratic majority of 191 votes out of 347 polled. De Kalb, too, has doubled her former achievements, and gives Whitcomb 147.—Steuben, which we had looked upon as whig, comes manfully to the rescue, and presents herself for admission into the democratic ranks with a majority of 75. Lagrange in another year will join Steuben,—her once heavy whig majority is already reduced to 45, and it is the last she will ever give. In short, the progress of democracy in this whole region is irresistible and onward.

Some of the Wabash counties, we are sorry to see, have not done as well as they ought. In some strong democratic counties, owing to dissensions and the running of several candidates, our friends have suffered themselves to be defeated, and whigs to be elected to the Legislature. The disaffection thus created has reduced our majorities for Governor. Men who are thus determined to rule or ruin, will insist on being candidates, even at the risk of defeating and destroying the party, ought at once to be read out of our ranks; they will not do us half the injury when acting openly with our adversaries that they do while professing to belong to our party. Notwithstanding the losses caused by this anti-democratic conduct, Whitcomb's majority in all the counties heard from is greater by 300 than it was in 1843, when he carried the state by nearly 2000.

There is, we believe, owing to the causes above named, a small whig gain, so far, in the Legislature; whether it will be enough to give them a majority we cannot say; but at all events the state of parties in the next Legislature will be nearly balanced.

Most of the counties in this part of the state have voted against a Convention to amend the constitution. It was not a party measure, and little interest was felt in the result.

ADVANCE OF THE ARMY.

At the last accounts Gen. Taylor had 12 steamboats busily engaged in transporting troops and supplies up the Rio Grande, and several companies were proceeding by land. Camargo had been taken possession of without firing a gun, and reports from reconnoitering parties state that there were but a few hundred troops in Monterey, and no preparations making for its defence. It was conjectured that Monterey would be taken without resistance. The absence of all apparent preparation there may however be only a ruse on the part of the Mexicans to throw the Americans off their guard, and it possibly may be intended to attack them in some of the defiles between Monterey and Camargo. The Rio Grande has been very high, overflowing its banks, and doing much damage at Matamoros, Camargo, and other towns, besides flooding the country, and rendering the roads impassable. The water is subsiding.

There has been a slight skirmish between some boats crews from the American squadron and the Mexicans, 12 miles from Vera Cruz. The Mexicans had landed to procure fresh water, when they were attacked by 200 Mexicans. The Princeton threw a few bomb shells among the assailants, and dispersed them, killing 12 or 15. The water being procured, the men returned to their ships, with only one man slightly wounded.

We met in the latest news, from the New Orleans Picayune of the 24th ult.

CAMARGO TAKEN.

The steamship Fashion, Capt. Fullerton, arrived last evening from Brazos Santiago. We have not received our letters by this arrival, but we learn verbally that there is a great movement of the troops up the Rio Grande. Gen. Taylor was still at Matamoros, but he was sending forward the recruits as fast as his means of transportation would permit him to do so.

Advances had been made of the taking of the town of Camargo. Six companies of the 7th Regiment entered that place a day or two before the Fashion sailed, without firing a gun. These companies were under the command of Capt. Whiting and others. When the U. S. troops arrived at Camargo, Col. Canby had been on the opposite side of the St. Juan river. He witnessed the entrance of the troops into the town, but offered no resistance.

Gen. Taylor had received reports from reconnoitering parties, who reported only three hundred troops at Monterey. The general impression in the army was that there would be no resistance offered to the American force this side of that city. No preparations for an attack of the town had been made.

The absence of everything that indicated resistance on the part of the enemy had led to the belief in the army that the war was at an end. The impression was that no negotiation for peace was on foot. There was no other way of accounting for the apparent superiority of the Mexicans.

Reports had reached the camp that Parades was about to leave the city of Mexico—his presence there being necessary to keep down a threatened revolution.

THE VOLUNTEERS.

The First Regiment Indiana Volunteers left New Orleans for the Rio Grande on the 15th ult. on board two fine ships. The men were all in good health and fine spirits. The Third Regiment left on the 16th, and the Second a day or two after. They are all now in Mexico.

Several letters have been received from the members of the two companies from Ft. Wayne by their friends here. Some of these letters state that there had been some sickness among the men, but that they were now mostly recovered. We have been kindly furnished with the following extracts from one written by Lieut. Colerick, which will be read with much interest.

NEW ORLEANS BATTLE GROUND, Headquarters of First Regiment Indiana Volunteers, July 12th, 1846.

DEAR — I wrote to you before leaving our encampment at New Albany, but did not inform you where to direct your letters to me. We left New Albany on the 5th inst. and after a tedious trip of five days arrived at New Orleans. We came down the river on the "Cincinnati," one of the best and fastest boats on the river. We had six companies on board of our boat; the remaining four companies came down on the "Grace Darling," and arrived here this morning. All the Staff officers came down with us, hence our accommodations were excellent—the only difficulty was we were too much crowded. But one of our men (I mean of the Fort Wayne company) has died since we left; he was a private in Capt. D. W. Lewis's company; I do not now recollect his name—he died after an illness of about three hours, on board of our boat, about forty miles above Memphis, Tennessee, and was buried with the honors of War the next day on the banks of the Mississippi about fifteen miles from a house, in a beautiful spot. The ceremony was an affecting one, and there was many a wet eye among the different companies before we left his grave. Poor fellow! he sleeps alone, but he still is remembered by his fellow soldiers. While he lived every attention was rendered him, and when he died as a favor we buried him in one of the most romantic spots you can imagine, where night can disturb him but the rippling wave of the Father of waters. Sleep on, brave soldier! whenever a "Mad Anthony" or "Wayne Guard" passes your lonely Sepulchre you will be called to his remembrance. There was another death on the "Grace Darling." I have not heard the particulars as yet, but think he belonged to one of the companies from the Southern part of the State (Indiana).

While encamped at New Albany one of the Private Volunteers stabbed the 2d Lieutenant of his company; the fellow was tried by a Court Martial of six Captains, and we suppose that the sentence against him is death. His fate will be left to the discretion of Gen. Taylor. The general impression with us is that Gen. Taylor will confirm the proceedings of the Court Martial and that the culprit will be shot. The name of the Lieutenant is Percell—he is still dangerous but will doubtless recover.

We are encamped on Gen. Jackson's Battle Ground, eight miles from New Orleans. I have been in the City but once since we arrived. It is a magnificent place, and surpasses any I have seen in the United States. Two Regiments of the Ohio Volunteers were encamped here when we arrived; the first of those regiments left yesterday for the Rio Grande and the other leaves this evening. They are all in good spirits and anxious to meet the enemy.

Gen. Vega, the Mexican General taken prisoner at the battle of RESACA DE LA PALMA, on the 9th of May last, by Gen. Taylor, is at the barracks three miles from our encampment. I went to see him yesterday, and was introduced to him. He is a noble looking fellow and perfect gentleman. Should the Mexicans be like him we will have no difficult task to contend with them most of people imagine.

The current report is that Parades is advancing with the flower of the Mexican troops to capture Taylor and his army from their soil, or at least prevent their further advancement into their country. There is no doubt entertained here but what there will be a regular battle between them soon; and that there may be, is the dearest wish of all our men. Our only fears are that we cannot get on fast enough to be engaged in the fight. Your friends from Fort Wayne are all well and send their respects.

Letters for members of this company should be directed as follows:

1st. Regiment of Indiana Volunteers, Mad Anthony's Guards, Matamoros, Mexico.

(Via New Orleans.)

Yours very Respectfully,

CHARLES F. COLERICK.

THE OREGON TREATY.

We give below a copy of the Oregon treaty, as published by the Philadelphia North American. How the Editor came in possession of it is a mystery, but as he has been arrested by the Sergeant at Arms of the Senate to attend an investigation regarding its publication, there can be no doubt that it is genuine.

[CONFIDENTIAL] Convention between the United States of America and her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, concluded at Washington the 15th of June, 1846.

June 16, 1846.—Read a first time.

June 17, 1846.—Read a second time and ordered to be printed in confidence for the use of the Senate.

The United States of America and her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, desiring it to be desirable, for the future welfare of both countries, that the state of doubtful uncertainty which has hitherto prevailed respecting the sovereignty and government of the territory on the North West Coast of America, lying Westward of the Rocky or Stony Mountains, should be finally terminated by an amicable compromise of the rights mutually asserted by the two parties, over said territory, have respectively named Plenipotentiaries to treat and agree concerning the terms of such settlement, that is to say, the President of the United States of America, has on his part furnished with full powers James Buchanan, Secretary of State of the United States, and her Majesty, the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, has on her part appointed the Right Honorable Richard Pakenham, a member of her Majesty's most honorable Privy Council, and her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States, who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following articles:

ARTICLE I.

From the point on the 49th parallel of north latitude, where the boundary laid down in existing treaties and conventions between Great Britain and the United States terminates, the line of boundary between the territories of her Britannic Majesty and those of the United States shall be continued westward along the 49th parallel of north latitude to the middle of the channel which separates the continent from Vancouver's Island, and thence southerly through the middle of the said channel, and of Fuca's Straits, to the Pacific Ocean; provided, however, that the navigation of the said channel and straits, south of the 49th parallel of north latitude, remain free and open to both parties.

ARTICLE 2.

"From the point at which the 49th parallel of north latitude shall be found to intersect the great northern branch of the Columbia river, the navigation of the said branch shall be free and open to the Hudson's Bay Company, and to all British subjects trading with the same, to the point where the said branch meets the main stream of the Columbia, and thence down the said main stream to the ocean, with free access into and through the said river or river, it being understood that all the usual portages along the line thus described, shall in like manner be free and open. In navigating the said river or river, British subjects, with their goods and produce, shall be treated on the same footing as citizens of the United States; it being, however, always understood that nothing in this article shall be construed as preventing, or intended to prevent, the government of the United States from making any regulations respecting the navigation of the said river or rivers, not inconsistent with the present treaty."

ARTICLE 3.

In the future appropriations of the territory south of the 49th parallel of north latitude, as provided in the first article of this treaty, the possessors of rights of the Hudson's Bay Company, and of all British subjects who may be already in the occupation of land or other property lawfully acquired within the said territory, shall be respected.

ARTICLE 4.

The farms, lands, and other property of every description, belonging to the Puget's Sound Agricultural Company, on the north side of the Columbia river, shall be confirmed to the said Company. In case, however, the situation of those farms and lands should be considered by the United States to be of public and political importance, and the United States Government should signify a desire to obtain possession of the whole or of any part thereof, the property so required shall be transferred to the said Government at a proper valuation to be agreed upon between the parties.

ARTICLE 5.

The present Treaty shall be ratified by the President of the United States by and with the advice and consent of the Senate thereof, and by her Britannic Majesty; and the ratifications shall be exchanged at London at the expiration of six months from the date hereof, or sooner if possible.

In witness whereof, the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the seals of their arms.

Done at Washington, the fifteenth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty six.

SADNESS.—There is a mysterious feeling that frequently passes like a cloud over the spirits. It comes upon the soul in the busy bustle of life, to the social circle in the calm and silent retreats of solitude. Its powers are alike supreme over the weak and iron hearted. At one time, it is caused by the flitting of a single thought across the mind. A sound will come booming over the ocean of memory, gloomy and solemn as the death-knell, and rushing down all the bright hopes and sunny feelings of the heart. Who can describe it? yet who has not felt its bewildering influence? Still, it is a delicious sort of sorrow; and like a cloud dimming the sunshine on the river, although causing a momentary shade of gloom, it enhances the beauty of returning brightness.

Prefers solid sense to wit; never study to be diverting, without being useful; let no just intrude upon good manners, nor say anything that may offend modesty.

FEVER AND AGUE finally conquered!—This disease has had length met with an opponent before which it has had to yield, in the "Chicagoer," prepared by Charles Osgood, M. D. This gentleman resided several years in an infected district of Michigan, making FEVER AND AGUE, its cause, effect, and cure, his study, and from the knowledge thus acquired, which has never yet been known to fail.

Numerous certificates from men of the highest respectability, testifying to the great efficacy of his medicine, can be seen on application to the undersigned agent.

POSTSCRIPT.

SINCE our election news was in type we have received further returns which are not so favorable to the democratic cause. Our friends in several southern counties have done badly; whig members of the Legislature are elected in several strong democratic counties, and in some there is quite a falling off in the democratic vote for Governor. The democrats in the south are eyeing us with some distrust.

The whigs will beyond all doubt have a majority in the Legislature. Whitcomb is re-elected, although his majority will not be as large as we had anticipated; but if the remainder of the southern counties do not do worse than those we have heard of, it will not fall far short of his majority in 1843. At the worst it cannot be less than 1000, which added to the 1200 majority of democrats among the volunteers, would leave the state of parties in the State about the same as at that time.

NEW YORK FALL TRADE.

TO COUNTRY MERCHANTS.

THERE CAN BE NO DOUBT BUT THAT the City of New York is the most advantageous market in the United States for the purchase of country supplies. It is connected by rail roads with all the States in the Union; it receives the largest importations from abroad, contains the largest stocks of goods, and is the great depot of American Manufacturers, and is, therefore, the most desirable market for Country Merchants to purchase with and find it to their advantage to call on the following houses:

Dry Goods.

Importer of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, Zephyr Ward, 40 Nassau, Glens, Robins, Lates, &c. D. S. TURNER, 60 William st., between Cedar and Pine.

Importers of Berlin, Zephyr Ward, Patterson, Canons, Flax, Silk, Cambric, Pure Tricot, Old Silk, Paris Fancy Articles, Gimp, Fringes, Tassels, &c. KOLSATT BROTHERS, 43 John St., and 357 Broadway.

Berlin Zephyr and Tapisserie Ward, Patterson, Gimp, Cards and Tassels, Steel Trimmings, Braid and a large assortment of French Fancies. Articles for sale by D. M. PEYSER, Importer, 58 John st., or 163 Broadway.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 8, 1846.

By using to a scarcity of help and a great press of work the Sentinel has been delayed this week beyond our usual day of publication. This delay enables us to lay before our readers an additional amount of election news.

NEW YORK MERCHANTS.—We would direct the attention of Country dealers to the advertisement of the Merchants, Manufacturers &c in New York, in this paper's.

THE ELECTION.—The election in the county went off very quietly, and but a light vote was given. By the official returns it will be seen that Whitcomb received a majority of 77 votes over Marshall, being the first time Allen county ever gave a majority for a democratic candidate for Governor. At the last election Gov. Bigler beat Whitcomb 46 votes. This result must be highly gratifying to Gov. Whitcomb, as it shows that the unfounded charges so industriously circulated against him, in regard to the formation of the volunteer regiments, met no response from our citizens; in fact we understand Whitcomb actually received several more votes.

Parker, who beats McLane, our candidate for Representative, 35 votes. This is to be regretted, and appears rather inexplicable to us. Mr. McLane is a man of irreproachable character, well qualified to represent us in the Legislature, and as the nominee of our convention, he ought to have received the vote of every democrat. That he did not is certain. Some contend he was sacrificed by trading and swapping off votes for other candidates; a reprehensible course that has been too much practiced here. We hope this year not the case, and are disposed to attribute his defeat rather to his not being generally known throughout the county. Next year he will be better acquainted, and we can elect him by a large majority.

CONGRESS.

PASSAGE OF THE TARIFF BILL.—The Tariff bill has passed the Senate by a vote of 28 to 27. Mr. Jennings, who, of Tennessee, in obedience to instructions, voting for it. On the vote for engrossing the bill, Mr. Jennings abstained himself, leaving a tie vote in favor of the engrossers. At the same time his reasons, in a most masterly speech, Mr. Dallas by this vote has made himself a champion of the Union, and showed that their confidence in him was not misplaced. The bill was slightly amended in the House, where after an animated struggle, the amendment was concurred in by a vote of 115 to 93, and the bill was passed. It has received the sanction of the President and is now a law. It goes into operation on the 1st Dec. 1846.

The President has vetoed the River and Harbor bill.

A bill was reported to the Senate, from the committee on public lands, making an appropriation of a strip of land 30 miles in width on each side of Mr. Whitney's contemplated rail road from the United States to Oregon. Mr. Benton denounced the scheme as absurd and ridiculous, no more, as absolutely impudent, and moved to lay the matter on the table. The motion was rejected, and the report ordered to be printed.

SEN. TAYLOR.—On the 31st ult. the Sub-Treasury bill was read a third time in the Senate, but before the final vote was taken the Senate adjourned.

MISSOURI PROTEST.—The bill granting pre-emption on the Miami lands to actual settlers has passed the Senate. It needs but the President's signature to become a law.

ARRIVAL OF THE IBERNIA.

Relief of the Oregon Treaty.—The Ibernian has arrived at Boston, with fifteen days later news. The most important intelligence she brings is the announcement in the House of Lords of the ratification of the Oregon treaty. The Ibernian brought on the treaty ratified by the British Government.

The new ministry is progressing harmoniously with public business, and a disposition is manifested by all parties to give them a fair trial. Business in the manufacturing districts is more active, and confidence has been increased by the passage of the Corn Law bill. Grain and flour continue low, but dealers are more firm. American flour is quoted in Liverpool at $4.10 a 60's. Wheat is 1.05 a 1.20. Corn is falling.
